

Your Design Process

Think about the last time you designed or created something... What steps did you go through. Write down each step on a post it & then organize them into stages here (or just write directly on the paper if you prefer)

A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a black outline, intended for writing down a step from the design process.A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a black outline, intended for writing down a step from the design process.A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a black outline, intended for writing down a step from the design process.A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a black outline, intended for writing down a step from the design process.